

The most impressive DC installation is probably at the US Army HQ in the Pentagon where for over 18 months they have not required masks or social distancing and used Far UV as their only intervention to protect their facilities. The HQ installed both ceiling mounted downlights and pole mounted lights (brand name Krypton Shields). The Army HQ has had 5 separate cases to date where people have come back from vacation or remote business meetings infected with the Alpha, Delta and Omicron variants and worked side by side with other colleagues for multiple days (without masks) before falling ill and testing positive. In each case, everyone in the office was tested and there were no confirmed cases of transmiss

HQ can be provided.

The most impressive DC installation is probably at the US Army HQ in the Pentagon where for over 18 months they have not required masks or social distancing and used Far UV as their only intervention to protect their facilities. The HQ installed both ceiling mounted downlights and pole mounted lights (brand name Krypton Shields). The Army HQ has had 5 separate cases to date where people have come back from vacation or remote business meetings infected with the Alpha, Delta and Omicron variants and worked side by side with other colleagues for multiple days (without masks) before falling ill and testing positive. In each case, everyone in the office was tested and there were no confirmed cases of transmiss

HQ can be provided.

